H. Mark Bobotek

Mark Bobotek has helped hundreds of families with wills, trusts and other estate planning and elder law matters over the past 20 years. He practices law in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia. Dubbed “the planning man” by the Baltimore Sun, he limits his practice to estate planning and elder law: asset protection from nursing homes, wills, trusts, estates, powers of attorney and health care documents, charitable giving, and related areas.

Mark attended Amherst College and George Mason University and is a graduate of the George Mason University School of Law in Arlington, Virginia. He has also received advanced training in Tax Law at the University of Baltimore.

Mark was a Board Member of the National Network of Estate Planning Attorneys (where he represented the Eastern region), and is member of ElderCounsel and the Maryland State Bar Association (Sections on Taxation as well as Elder Law and Estates and Trusts), the Virginia State Bar (Estates and Trusts Section), the District of Columbia Bar, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys and the Howard County Bar Association.

Mark has written numerous articles and other publications. He has been a contributor to the “Daily Plan-It”, a newsletter for thousands of financial advisors nationwide. He writes and speaks frequently on estate planning and elder law issues.

Mark served on active duty as an officer with the U. S. Coast Guard. Mark has been active in the community as a member of the Board of Managers for the Howard County YMCA and the Advisory Board of Deerfield Senior Services.
